What is the Defense Contract Audit Agency (DCAA)?

DCAA is a vital Department of Defense (DoD) Agency. Before an aircraft carrier sails out to sea for the first time, we've been on board. Before a medevac helicopter takes to the skies, we've seen it being made. We audit government contracts for supplies, equipment, and services that help our military service members and their missions succeed—ensuring taxpayers and DoD get the best value for every dollar spent.

Enjoy all the benefits of working for DoD, DCAA, and the Federal Government:

- Competitive salaries and career advancement opportunities
- Unparalleled training from the Defense Contract Audit Institute and many professional and leadership development programs
- Commitment to work-life balance, Flexible work hours and teleworking opportunities
- Generous leave, benefits, and retirement packages
- Reimbursement for job-related education and certifications
